Protestival Porch with Wee the People
 Mozart Park - 318 Centre Street

An art-filled afternoon of music, games, a mini-Wee The People march and story time, and Bridges Not Walls—a kid-powered art installation where kids will build a giant wall with boxes before tearing them down for the finale. The amazing mobile library Boston Public Library's Bibliocycle will also be on hand with social justice books during the event.

Make a protest tshirt, win game prizes, bang in our drum circle led by Zili Misik percussionist Kera Washington, and tear down a giant wall—bring your little voices and make big change at Protestival!

Storytelling Porch
 Eliot School - 24 Eliot Street

What's the story? Join Porchfest's Story Porch and come hang out with neighbors, friends and complete strangers as they share their stories about life, love, community, connections, porches, JP, and more. Some of our storytellers will be veterans and some will be newbies. They'll include Wes Hazard, Jess Gahd, Mary Wallace and Chuck Collins. And you, too, can toss your hat in the ring—or rather your name in a hat—to snag a spot to tell your own engaging tale. Personal narratives connect us in deep ways through shared vulnerability. If you want to be scientific about it, they connect us through the mirroring of neurons between the teller and the listener. In short, stories rock! Come rock with us!

Circus Arts Porch
 Eliot School - 24 Eliot Street

Commonwealth Circus Center and members of Circus Up will be performing and teaching mini circus lessons throughout the day! We will have a mini-demonstration at the top of each hour whether it is hula hooping, aerials, partner acrobatics, or beyond!

Theater & Dance Porch
 Loring-Greenough House - 12 South St

Get ready for improv, dance & more as stellar performers take to this stage! After the other performances, stick around for a dance party with DJ Leo Alarcon!

For questions contact: Annelise Hagar Preciado, annelisehagar@gmail.com

Comedy Porch
 520 Centre Street

Comedy Porch will be hosted by Deadair Dennis and will include such notables as Wes Hazard, Shaun Connolly, Tooky Kavanagh & more!
